Wedesday Feb 13, 2002

On wedesday I was In my Car driving, and I was In the Left turning lane making a 'u'. The light turned green and I started to make my u turn. There was a Car behind me wanting to make a left. As I proceeded to make that 'u' turn I noticed that the Car behind was really close. To close for me to complete a 'u' turn safety. Then as I came into the middle of the inner section a car, from the Other side storted to make a right hand turn, and I had to slam on my brakes. At that time I thought that a u turn blinker would be good, because all porties would be informed, before I made a u turn. When I came home I made this note and simple drawing.

